Began with this:

Where do we see ourselves?

Read a piece of writing - very nicely done! A very effective way to begin and capture our attention. It was an excellent choice. I am not sure if you noticed but everyone was listening intently. A very funny narrative.

It was also very good that you had the paper to refer to and that you read what each element was, worked well. (Maybe good to point out more on the page where things were located)

Collaboration - you worked very well together!

- We are going to move to "circle writing"
- I really like the pacing of your team. Your explanations were clear and easy to understand.

Very nice clarification.

What was really wonderful is that you did a wonderful job of explaining what you were doing, gave a clear and effective example and then gave them enough time to play with your ideas. Everyone was very engaged which was beautiful to watch and the room I did not stop it was because it was working very well! I hope that you feel how well it is going.
